

Monoblock Air Conditioning System

Model: KFR-28MB/LUX

The KFR-28MB/LUX is a Monoblock through-the-wall air conditioning system designed for efficient climate control without the need for an external unit. Its sleek, self-contained design makes it ideal for homes, offices, and commercial spaces where traditional split systems are impractical. This unit delivers reliable cooling and heating performance while maintaining a compact and stylish appearance.

Engineered for convenience, the KFR-28MB/LUX does not require an FGAS engineer for installation. The system includes a sealing strip to enhance insulation, reducing energy loss and maximizing efficiency. With easy-to-use controls and a commitment to environmental responsibility, this air conditioner offers a sustainable and effective solution for year-round comfort.
